ARLINGTON HIGH FIVE DEFEATS BELMONT BY CLOSE MARGIN

Schoolboy Basketball Game Featured By Poor Officiating—Wright Is Star for Arlington High With Nine Points To His Credit—Hendrick and Seretto Taken Out of Game For "Rough Playing"—Fans Resent Decision—Score Is 23 to 19

Arlington High Basketball team barely managed to take out a 23 to 19 victory over a classy Belmont team at the Belmont High Gymnasium yesterday afternoon. Poor officiating as well as a poor playing surface handicapped the Arlington team considerably. The referee was decidedly a Belmont adherent and gave some of the worst decisions seen on a floor this year. The official managed to have Paul Hendrick and Rafe Seretto both ejected for what he termed rough playing. It happened that both are star players. Rafe was last year's Captain and Paul is the present captain. Both are quiet and have fouls called on them very seldom so that it looked like a deliberate effort on the part of the official to get them out of the game. Arlington scored twice with these two men off the floor. Hamilton, a substitute, scoring twice after he had taken Seretto's place.

Wright was the star of the game in scoring, with Clarke and Crovo following as the shining lights of the game with their brilliant covering.

Arlington was behind up to the middle of the second period when Wright sunk a shot with two minutes to go putting Arlington a point in the lead. Belmont scored again to take the lead. Clarke took the ball in the middle of the floor, passed once, received the ball back again, tore down the side, weaved into the middle and jumped between the two Belmont guards to score two points with a brilliant push shot putting Arlington again in the lead. A foul shot tied the score as the period ended 9 to 9. Hendrick was the key man on this offense, doing most of the passing to the men who scored. His passes were fast and accurate.

A foul shot by Belmont put them into the lead at the beginning of the second half but an Arlington basket gave them the lead again. A Belmont basket changed the lead over. Seretto sunk a beauty from quarter floor, to put Arlington ahead as the period ended.

Belmont again took the lead in the second period only to lose it with a basket by Wright. The game saw-sawed back and forth and became a little rougher. The referee singled out Rafe Seretto and called a foul on him which happened to be the fourth and Rafe was asked to leave. His substitute, Hamilton, although not proving to be an expert at passing scored a basket to give Arlington a two-basket lead, but towards the closing minutes of the game Belmont made it only one point lead and the crowd was wild with excitement. Hamilton received a pass from Crovo, saw no one to pass to, measured the distance and dropped the ball through the ring for two points. A foul was called on the next play and Belmont increased their points by one. With two minutes to go Wright looped another and the Arlington fans felt a little better but when the Belmont team started pushing Arlington it was touch and go. The whistle finally blew to end the tension.

The second team had a rather bad time of it at first but came back to defeat the Belmont High seconds 27-11. Hardrick and Hamilton starred in the second team's points themselves. The referee slowed up the game by excessive blowing of the whistle. The summary of the main game:

Traveling Studio Visits Arlington For Screen Tests

Hailed by educational and industrial leaders as contributing toward the promotion and betterment of visual education and the stimulation of fan interest in the motion picture industry than any other individual medium ever conceived, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's Traveling Motion Picture Studio, a completely equipped studio on wheels, visited the Capitol theatre in Arlington yesterday on its extensive good will tour of the United States and Europe.

Offering under the sponsorship of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, in association with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer exhibitors throughout the country, a complete demonstration of how talking pictures are made and projected, and an opportunity for thousands of aspiring young girls to test their qualifications for a screen career, this traveling studio attracted many people in Arlington.

The studio combines standard facilities for both the talking as well as the projection of talking motion pictures. The general public was permitted to pass through the studio to inspect the sound apparatus.

The Traveling Studio is a remarkable sight. Named "The Globe Trotter," it is painted a colorful red, with gold trimmings and its mammoth searchlight and other accessories are of highly polished nickel.

But it is the studio proper, the elaborate forty-foot trailer coach, with its maze of intricate and intriguing sound paraphernalia, its cameras, voice recording devices, public address system, talking picture projection machines, and other costly apparatus, that captured and held the interest of movie fans during the studio's stay here.

The forward part of the studio is given over to a sound proof room, in which voice and camera tests are made. It is in this room, with its thickly carpeted floor, and its velvet draped walls and ceiling, that the sound recording devices the long black panels of switches and mysterious dials, the cameras, and the public address system are located.

In the rear part of the studio proper, the projection booth and screen are found. The booth, with its Standard Western Electric equipment, its film rewinding machines, and other interesting regulation apparatus used in the projection of talkies, is enclosed in glass, thus enabling spectators to observe the operations involved in the projection of pictures as well as the equipment used. A microphone located within the booth, and connected to speakers in the passageway, enables the projectionist to explain the details of his intricate task to the spectators.

The screen, one of the few ultra-modern rear projection screens in the country, covers the back of the studio. On it the crowds of onlookers gathered about the rear of the studio were shown a special program of short subjects, embracing a trip through the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios in California, a visit to the Hal Roach studios, a goodwill talk by Will Hays, and interesting reels of an educational nature.

The opportunity for young women to test whatever screen qualifications they believe they possess is being provided through the medium of a spectator campaign to discover America's perfect feminine screen find of 1933. This campaign, which will give screen and voice tests to thousands of girls throughout the country will be conducted by the Traveling Motion Picture Studio in conjunction with exhibitors of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer pictures.

In addition to the studio and its elaborate pulling unit, the Traveling Studio organization also includes a fully equipped camera car, and a pilot car. According to the plans announced by the motion picture company, every city of major importance in the United States will be visited by this studio on wheels. Then it will be shipped to Europe, Australia, South America and the Far East, touring in all more than 33 different countries.

The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Traveling Motion Picture Studio is the third international traveling unit launched by this company.

ARLINGTON-LEXINGTON BASKETBALL GAME ENDS IN HECTIC RIOT

Milling about on the Junior High East basketball floor, close to a hundred fans took part in a hectic riot which brought an abrupt close to the Arlington A. A.—Lexington Minute Boys game last night.

Lexington was credited with starting the riot although local fans certainly entered the melee with gusto. Not until Chief of Police Archie F. Bullock was called in did the riot subside. With his arrival on the scene, the rioters dispersed and the evening's battle was called to a halt. Chief Bullock happened to be attending a meeting of the Men's Improvement association in the school auditorium, in another part of the building, and was quickly on the scene.

The game was the first for the Arlington A. A. in the Paul Revere league. Lexington was leading 26

INDUSTRIAL BOARD SECURED WORK FOR STATE'S INDUSTRIES

(Editor's Note: This is the third of a series of articles explaining the work of the Massachusetts Industrial and Development Commission. Watch for the next article in which will be explained what is being done to advertise Massachusetts as a recreational center.)

The Massachusetts Industrial and Development Commission has done considerable good work in fighting for the best interests of Massachusetts industries.

Since the Commission has been in operation, it has been called upon from time to time to interfere with Federal bureaus in the interests of Massachusetts industry. It has been found that a central agency of this nature, with the influence of the Commonwealth behind it, can arouse favorable response in Washington.

Helped State The Commission has taken action in opposing a proposed tariff on gypsum, which, if it had become effective, would have been exceedingly detrimental to a Massachusetts firm which uses that commodity as a raw material. The bill did not pass. Later at the request of the granite workers, the Commission added its vote to the movement to provide an increase in the appropriation for the Boston Post Office to permit the use of granite in its construction, on the grounds that it would relieve unemployment among quarry men. The Commission also exerted its influence in Washington to protect a Massachusetts industry when the Post Office Department was on the verge of excluding bids for jute twine. The demands of the government for jute twine provide employment for several hundred Massachusetts workers each year. Following the Commission's effort, bids were opened to makers of jute twine, and the Massachusetts company was awarded the contract. Grateful acknowledgement was made of the Commission's help in the matter. The most aggressive action taken in Washington was in regard to a more adequate tariff protection for our women's shoe manufacturers, who had been menaced by a flood of cheap foreign-made footwear, principally from Czechoslovakia, where prevailing wage scales are far below those of Massachusetts. After discussing the situation thoroughly with the representatives of certain shoe manufacturers' associations and Chambers of commerce, it was decided that the 20 per cent duty on shoes then in effect was absolutely necessary for the protection of the local industry. When the matter finally came up for hearing before the United States Tariff Commission, Robert J. Watt, a member of the Massachusetts Industrial and Development Commission, was delegated to go to Washington to represent the Governor in support of the manufacturers' cause. As a result of this, the Tariff Commission allowed a 50 per cent increase on the duty on McKay shoes, which finding has had the approval of the President.

New Industries In many other ways the Massachusetts Industrial and Development Commission is furthering the interests of industry in the Commonwealth. A monthly canvass of the chambers of commerce in the State is made regarding new industries and expansions of established concerns. This information is tabulated and made public through the newspapers. The Commission maintains a list of persons having capital to invest in industry and another list of those interested in establishing industry in Massachusetts. Out-of-State prospects have been called upon by representatives of this Commission in regard to the establishment of plants in Massachusetts. A direct mail campaign has been directed to many hundreds of industrial prospects. Interviews have been arranged with executives of concerns planning to

Edith Nourse Rogers Proves Vote-Getter

Compilation of statistics about the recent election has been completed by the national government. In the Massachusetts Congressional contests the figures show that 74,459 people indicated a desire to have Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers continue to serve them as the Fifth District representative at Washington. This is nearly 4500 more votes than were cast for any other candidate for Congress in the State, Republican or Democratic.

Police action is expected to end the several complaints made about men annoying young girls in Arlington.

GRANADA—MALDEN
"Under-Cover Man," with George Raft as the star, and "The Penguin Pool Murder" with Robert Armstrong, Edna May Oliver, Mae Clark and James Gleason, is the double bill that opens at the big Granada Theater in Malden on Saturday. "Under-Cover Man" is the story of a high-class confidence man who turns police informer in order to "get" the murderer of his father. George Raft portrays the young confidence man who comes from the West to New York and agrees to join the gang and tip-off the police when he gets the goods on them. Nancy Carroll plays the role of a girl whose brother has been killed by the same gang. Raft persuades her to work with him in setting a trap for Lew Cody, the leader of the high class crooks. Other well known players who appear in important roles are Roscoe Karns, Gregory Ratoff, Noel Francis and David Landeau. "Under-Cover Man" is hailed as another hit for George Raft who is rapidly becoming one of the biggest favorites on the screen.

"The Penguin Pool Murder" is a brilliant drama, a brilliantly conceived mystery plot and a laugh packed comedy in one unit. The story concerns a husband murdered in the New York Aquarium, where he has traced his wife and her lover. His body is later found in the penguin pool. The superintendent of the aquarium, becomes involved as a suspect, as does a pick-pocket present at the crime. The intriguing mystery is finally solved by a spinster school teacher, played by Edna May Oliver, who by sheer force of will and reasoning, compels James Gleason of the New York Homicide Squad to accept her as a working partner. Miss Oliver and James Gleason make a marvelous comedy team and keep the audience in an uproar with their wise cracks. How the two of them combine to solve the mystery sprinkles a tense drama with snappy fun.

Clara Bow in "Call Her Savage" the long-awaited picture, heads the double bill that ends its run at the Granada on Friday. "They Call It Sin," with George Brent, Loretta Young and David Manners as the stars, is the second attraction on the current program.

REAL SPORT

THE moment a steamship drops into the harbor of Honolulu from the West Coast of the United States or from the Far East, the traveler is treated to some extraordinary swimming exhibitions as natives dive for coins. Likewise, he is always impressed with the muscular development of the natives.

When the traveler visits the beaches of the city he is amazed at the skill of natives in riding the surf, flat boards. Again he is impressed with the fine bodies of the Hawaiian swimmers.

The combination of life in the open air with plenty of invigorating sunshine, swimming and generous consumption of canned pineapple has played its part in upbuilding of the native swimmers.

There are few places in the United States where swimming is possible the year round but in all places canned pineapple is available. Now that exhaustive food research has proved that canned pineapple contains more health values than any other fruit which has been subjected to similar study, tens of thousands of American housewives are today making it a habit of weaving canned pineapple daily to the members of their families.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED

Dr. Munsell, a prominent physician, organizes a committee to work with the government agents in cleaning up a dope ring. He offers a $25,000 reward for the capture of the mysterious Mr. X, leader of the gang. Hart, a government agent, does a term in Sing Sing to get next to Henderson, a member of the gang, as soon as he gets the information he desires, Hart makes a jail break and heads for the Arnold home.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
Outside the Arnold house, Hart fired a bullet, grazing the skin of his arm. It would add credence to his role of escaped convict. After that Gorman kept firing, while the escaped man ran to the house, climbed the vines outside and entered by a second story window. He turned to see Julie gazing at him in fear. Outside the storm rose.

"I beg your pardon," Hart bowed. "Beastly weather we're having. Sorry that I had to break in on you like this." The girl started for the door, but Hart intercepted her. "I wouldn't do that," he said. There was just a touch of grimace in his voice. "If you raise a rumpus, it's all up with me."

"Then wouldn't you be good enough to put down that gun," she said. For the first time Hart realized that he held the pistol in his hand. "I beg your pardon," He lowered the weapon and then steadily concealed it in his pocket. As he did, Julie observed the blood on his arm. "Oh—you're hurt." She went over to him.

James E. Igo, Malden, drunk, on file and returned to the state farm by the revocation of a suspended term.

Need Eight More States To Ratify Lame Duck Law
WASHINGTON.—Only eight more States need ratify the lame duck amendment to write it into the constitution, and at the rate the legislatures have been approving it, their task may be completed within the month.

Ratifications by Nebraska and Wyoming brought the total to 28. Thirty-six are necessary.

Hart hesitated for an instant and then said: "I think it would be a good idea to ask the ladies to leave us for a moment."

"It might be a better idea to call the police."

"No," said Hart, smoothly. "You don't want any cops snooping around here if you can help it, Mr. Arnold."

"How do you know my name?" was asked to come here.

"Who told you?"

"A man named Henderson. Do you know him?"

The mention of the name caused a noticeable change. "Arnold's a good idea to ask the ladies to leave us for a moment."

"Hello, Doc—how's the old throat specialist?"

INDEPENDENTS ONE OF BEST COLLECTIONS IN CITY BOWLING LEAGUE

The league-leading Independents, of the City Bowling League, a new team in the League this year have been going on high and it is little wonder, as the veteran of them all, old Bill Lindsay is rolling with the team. With due respect to the other members, Bill can always be depended upon to come through for 300 or more.

He boasts of the fine average of 103, holds the high individual three string record of 357 and is still going strong. Until last year Bill always walked away with the high average prize. Joe Kulda is not far behind Bill, but perhaps the cares of the captaincy have been extra weight for Joe to carry. He has an average of 101 and recently rolled a string of 140 which is the record to date. Joe says he'll be in there at the finish.

Louis Valentini leads off and his pep and confidence gained no doubt through his experience as an amateur boxer keeps the team on its toes. Lenny Keefe is one of those boys who is always trying his hardest to keep his end up and is doing a fine job of it. Sherry Allen, with an average of 98 at present, is one of the steadiest bowlers in the league and that is what counts in the long run.

The Independents have been leading the procession most all season but the other teams have been gradually closing in on them and as the season is only half over anything can happen before the schedule is completed.

However, the Independents are now safely entrenched in the top position and it is going to take a mighty fine team to beat them out.

COMPANY E WINS OVER NORTH MEDFORD IN CLOSE BASKET GAME

North Medford, playing its first regulation basketball game of the season, showed strength at times but finally bowed to the superior and better organized Company E five at the Armory last night in one of the closest contests of this somewhat early season. The final tally showed Company E on the long end 32-26.

In the early stages the Reddon-coached quintet went into a quick lead and took the Orange and Black by a surprise. At the end of the first quarter the Company was far in front 15-3. The boys of North Medford cut down this lead during the minutes of the second period but failed to overcome the advantage the Company had scored. At the conclusion of the first half the Company was still ahead 17-10.

The visitors came back with a strong attack in the third quarter and made a serious bid to tie up the count and did come within four points but the Army boys' defense buckled and permitted the North Medford to come no closer.

Great shots by Manus Kane and Paul Murphy kept the home five continually in the lead. John MacLean who started at center and later shifted to back, was high man for the losers with a total of 9 points.

TRIANGULAR TRACK MEET AT BOSTON Y TOMORROW AFTERNOON

Everett Appears To Be Favorite Over Medford And Malden But Locals Have Chance—If Every Possible Point Scorer Comes Through The Blue and Whites Can Cop—Great Race Between Salter of Everett and Eddie Howard Expected—Kozowyk 1000 Favorite

The main doings along the schoolboy front tomorrow afternoon brings together together the Everett, Malden and Medford High track teams in a triangular meet on the Boston "Y" track.

At this late hour Everett looms as the favorite but to win Denny Gildes's clan will have to score in the vicinity of 30 points if you take the say-so of this particular key-plunker. All in all there are some 77 points to be divided three ways but from the present outlook Malden will do well to take 17, leaving 60 markers for Medford and Everett to shoot for.

To pick the probable winner in the dash and 300-yard run is quite a task under present conditions for Ado Committo, one of the best schoolboy sprinters in the state, is handicapped by a football injury which may hold him back. If Committo is not in shape Al Kerwin, Malden football leader, will be the boy to beat in the dash and Bob Bolivar of Medford should set the pace in the 300.

600 Close
The 600-yard run appears to be one of the best on the menu with Elwyn Salter of Everett and Eddie Howard of Medford as the chief participants. Salter, on the basis of past performance, is conceded a slight edge but Howard's sudden stride of late makes him a dangerous contender for the honors.

Chalk up five points right now for Medford in the 1000-yard run unless he falls off the track. Eddie Kozowyk will win handily. Billy Mains of Malden turns in a fair time over the long distance but he hasn't the staying power possessed by the Blue and White leader who hopes to eclipse the state record before the teams take to the outdoor grounds.

Everett In Field

From the present outlook Everett will garner valuable points in the field events, especially in the shot put and broad jump although it hasn't any real outstanding entry in either event. Medford looks good for five points and first position in the running high jump with the lean Ray Henderson doing the performing. Henderson is able to go 5 feet 9 inches, while Kerwin, the second best of the group, hasn't done over 5-7 in his two years of competition and in a couple of track gatherings this season.

Henderson In Hurdles
The hurdles is a hard event to judge since none of the teams have entries who have tasted competition, the event being restricted from meets held in the small school gyms. Henderson will also be the hope of the local trackers.

Medford's relay team, unbeaten to date, appears the best of the three although Everett will offer stiff opposition and will undoubtedly place second.

Giving Medford first places in the 300, 1000, high jump and relay, the Blue and White will have 20 points but in order to win it must score heavily by taking many second and third places, thus offsetting its field event weaknesses.

MYSTIC—MALDEN

Hailed by critics as "the most unusual picture of the year," the film "Life Begins," with Loretta Young and Eric Linden as the stars, opens a six day engagement at the Mystic Theatre in Malden starting Saturday. Unusual both in theme and treatment, "Life Begins" gives the movie audience its first intimate glimpse into the workings of a hospital maternity ward and the lives and tragedies of women confined there. The delicate subject it deals with has been tactfully, yet most effectively handled by the producers. It carries its dramatic punch not in one story but in the stories of the several women who are confined to the ward. A condemned murderess, a pleasure loving girl, a member of the "intelligentsia," a young Italian woman, and several other varied characters each detail their life's stories as they are reflected through the happenings of the maternity ward. Loretta Young and Eric Linden play the most important roles, with Allen MacMahon, Frank McHugh, Preston Foster, Glenda Farrell, Gilbert Roland, Dorothy Peterson and Hale Hamilton in support. "Life Begins" is something entirely different in screen drama—a picture that no one can see and not be moved to tears.

"Me and My Gal," with Joan Bennett and Spencer Tracy as the stars, is the second feature on the Mystic program for Saturday. In the film Joan Bennett portrays the role of a sophisticated cashier in a downtown New York restaurant; while Spencer Tracy appears as a smart young detective who falls in love with her. Their romance leads to exciting paths, particularly for Tracy, who, as the result of his romance, runs to earth a desperate gang of bank robbers. "Me and My Gal" has comedy, romance and thrills, together with some of the snappiest dialogue in a long time.

Banker Tells What Paying Of "Bonus" Means

What would paying the "bonus" mean, and how can it be paid at this time?

The following letter, signed by M. Gorman, president of the American Bank & Trust Co., of Ardmore, Okla., voluntarily sent to the national organization of The American Legion, asks the question, and answers it as follows, according to a statement issued at National Headquarters in Indianapolis:

"It would mean $680,000 paid out in Carter (Okla.) county in sums averaging $500 each, and it would go into every hole and corner of the county. It means $40,000,000 in Oklahoma, distributed in the same way. This money would go into the hands of middle-aged men, most of them with families; many of them in distress on account of the present depression. Farmers, mechanics, clerks and laboring men—out of work—carrying a non-interest bearing government bond due in 1945, with an average value today of $500, but worth in 1945 about $118 when the government figures interest on the loans made on those bonds.

"This money will be put into circulation; not in the stock market, but spent for actual necessities. It would put the merchant to work; the mines, mills and factories to supply the merchant, and, in my judgment, it will soon find that corner that 'Prosperity' has been hiding around.

"Now where will we get the money? A 'Bonus' certificate is property—a promise to pay a sum of money at a future time. This bond should be taken up by the Federal Reserve Banks and Federal Reserve currency issued to pay for them, this currency to be retired out of the sinking fund that is being built up to pay those certificates off in 1945—their due date. Now we hear the howl 'printing-press money—rubber money—flat money!'

"Why, we will lose all our gold if we do this! We will be told about the ruble—the mark—the greenback that went down to the thirty-five cents on the dollar. We will hear of poor old Grandma sitting crying quietly, fondling her Confederate money, but they forget to tell us that every penny of greenbacks was paid off at one hundred cents on the dollar.

"The Federal Reserve Banks issue new money against merchandise, live stock, Government bonds and Treasury certificates. Why not on Soldier's certificates when the boys need it worse than they ever will again. There is plenty of gold on hand to margin this currency the required 40 per cent."

STRAND—MALDEN

Two of the fastest moving action pictures of the season come to the Strand Theatre, Malden starting Saturday with the appearance of William Haines and an all star cast in "Fast Life" and "The Devil Is Driving" with Edmund Lowe, Wynne Gibson, James Gleason, Lois Wilson, Alan Dinehart and Little Dickie Moore.

"Fast Life" is a breath taking motorboat racing picture filmed at Catalina Island. Haines is given one of the strongest portrayals of his career as the irrepressible "Sandy," a motorboat mechanic who has a new idea for an engine that will break the world's record. He drives his boat through a race that will send thrilling chills down the spine of even the most apathetic theatre-goer. Cliff Edwards pokes his expressive countenance into a series of comedy situations with Haines through which they both have many hilarious adventures. Madge Evans is seen as the daughter of a wealthy racing boat builder who gets Haines and Edwards jobs in her father's factory. Conrad Nagle heads the balance of the cast in an entirely new type of role for him.

"The Devil Is Driving" is a vivid melodrama, rich in pathos, ribald humor and the starkest horror, and built up to a climax which, for horror and thrill, has seldom been duplicated. The picture is a daring expose of the "hot car" racket in New York City. A big garage in downtown New York, with its winding ramp leading past its six floors of repair shops, storage rooms and paint shops, is just a cover for a huge gang of auto thieves. Stolen cars are driven into the garage and a crew of mechanics so alter the appearance of the car that it is past recognition. All this is exposed when the small son of one of the apparent manager of the garage is injured by one of the stolen cars. The head of the gang lives on the eighth floor in a penthouse with a servant known as The Dummy. The Dummy is really the brains behind the whole scheme. Edmund Lowe plays a wise-cracking role of garage attendant and with Wynne Gibson gives the picture most of its humor.

ANTISEPTIC by VICKS

at HALF the usual price of other quality antiseptics

Born in a depression year... and priced accordingly... a 75¢ value for only 35¢

TODAY the makers of Vicks Vapo-Rub present a new antiseptic... Vicks Vorate Antiseptic. No extravagant claims are made for it. It is simply the best oral antiseptic Vicks Chemists could produce. And they were aided by the scientific experts of our 16 allied organizations... in America, in England, and in Germany.

They examined the whole field of oral antiseptics. Some they found were too weak... a few were far too strong for regular use in the mouth... most were very good... but all were much too expensive... especially for 1933.

Effective... and Safe
So they produced a balanced antiseptic... mild enough to be used daily without risk to delicate membranes

Home Owners Given Every Possible Aid To Prevent Foreclosure

Every support possible is being given to home owners in the first federal reserve district to prevent foreclosure of mortgages, it was announced yesterday by Carl P. Dennett, chairman of the banking and industrial committee. Under that group has been organized a real estate advisory committee headed by Wilmet R. Evans, president of the Boston Five Cent Savings Bank, who yesterday declared in a report:

"I have communicated with all the banks in the Metropolitan district. In a letter I set forth the necessity for leniency in dealing with mortgagors now in distress and asked the assistance of these banks. The results have been most gratifying and many of the banks have responded. In every case it is clear that the attitude of the banks is to assist the committee in its work and to do everything possible consistent with the proper management of the bank to aid owners in protecting their homes.

"If any one in the Metropolitan district has a mortgage held by a bank he can have full assurance that if he goes directly to the bank the officers will interview him and he will receive sound and sympathetic advice."

To Give Reading Of Shakespeare Play

On Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 25th, John E. Hines, noted author and actor, will give his interpretation of Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew" at the Medford high school auditorium. The reading will be a part of a lecture, "The Play's the Thing". ### Bankruptcy Bill To Be Reported

Broad legislation to relieve both private and corporate debtors was whipped into final shape yesterday by the House judiciary committee as President Hoover's desire for prompt action was reiterated at the White House.

The McKewen bill, which Speaker John N. Garner has assured early consideration, is to be reported formally to the House today. It was completed after a week devoted to perfecting it.

The bill, as drafted, permits reduction of extension of debts by court sanction. Debtors and creditors would appeal for readjustments to federal courts. It revises present bankruptcy statutes.

IN Ecuador, which lies on the Equator down in South America, is a jungle-edition of a dude ranch that is attracting travelers from all over the world. It rests at an elevation of 5,000 feet near the Falls of Agoyan on the rail route between Quito, the capital, and Guayaquil—the port which is included in the route of the fortnightly cruises which sail every two weeks from New York and California to Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, and Chile.

Here at the Hacienda Rio Negro, in a truly primitive setting, one finds all the comforts of civilization and enough diversion to last for years. For the horse, there are sturdy

ACTING VERY WISELY

The group of Arlington citizens who have organized a Taxpayers' Association, the officers of which are named in today's Daily News have made a very wise move. Similar associations are cropping up everywhere and are serving as a most satisfactory check on government expenditures.

Now it is hoped that as many people as possible will join the new association in Arlington. Its purpose is one to be highly commended and much is expected from it.

So that our readers may become acquainted with the ideals of such associations we publish herewith an article by the Woburn Taxpayers' Association, appearing in the Woburn Daily Times. It's worth giving a thought:

"Massachusetts always has been a state in which the principle of 'home rule' has been zealously preserved. Its town meeting has been called by students of governmental science the most responsive form of representation to be found anywhere. Our belief in the 'home rule' principle remains unshaken, although it is true that its abuse by some municipalities is chiefly responsible for their present condition.

"The need for a general reduction in all public expenditures is not merely an economic theory to be preached by all and practiced only in a few isolated instances, under the moving factor of compulsion. If this principle is not voluntarily accepted now, it is only a question of time when it will force itself upon us, with attendant circumstances that will be little short of disastrous.

"A city which refuses to curtail its appropriations for next year by the measure of the revenue it may reasonably expect to collect, will find itself in a precarious position a year hence. The property it has been forced to take for non-payment of taxes represents a revenue deficit on this year's account, because of the fact that the money borrowed in anticipation of such collections has been spent. And the forfeiture of tax titles is growing larger, month by month.

"Property thus taken which cannot be sold represents a dead loss to the community. And the necessity of carrying over anticipation notes, representing uncollected taxes, into the levy of the next year—a practice technically forbidden, but generally followed—will eventually bring the community to the point where bankers will be justified in refusing to extend further credit."

Daddy Sunshine Club Rules

1. Be kind and helpful to others.
2. Look both ways when crossing streets.
3. Always be kind to dumb animals.
4. Write a letter to Daddy Sunshine, or have Mother or Dad write it for you, every now and then.
5. Try to bring a "Ray" of Sunshine into the lives of your parents and others every day of the week and every week of the year.

These rules are not very difficult for good girls and boys to keep. Most of them are kept by them anyway. Mail your letters and stories to Daddy Sunshine, in care of this paper. He will answer them in the Daddy Sunshine Column.

Write on but one side of the paper, and place your age and address on the letter after your name. Give the day, month and year of your birth.

To join the club all you have to do is promise to keep the rules—and keep them.

Your puzzles certainly are worthwhile. Verna, Daddy Sunshine is most pleased to receive them. Besides being a splendid pastime for the children to solve, they are truly educational and cannot be answered without some reference to library or school books. Hope you send in more like them. Daddy Sunshine will present tickets to the first 10 correct answers of the puzzles, for the Sunshine matinee at the Medford theatre on Saturday, Jan. 28th. When this particular opportunity to get tickets, closes.

Legion Planning Fight To Maintain Children's Rights

Massachusetts officials of the American Legion, Legion Auxiliary, members of the "40 and 8", honor society of the Legion, and the "8 and 40" the women's honor society, will join with those of other nearby states in a fighting program this winter to prevent curtailment of welfare work that will insure the rights of all children to equal opportunities in health and good citizenship, according to C. Russell Little, of Fair Haven, Vermont, chairman of this area of the Legion.

A conference of scores of these officials has been set for March 24-25, in Manchester, New Hampshire. The states which this area embraces are Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont. The Auxiliary chairman for this area is Mrs. Percy S. Carpenter, of Burlington, Vermont.

At a recent meeting of the national committee in Indianapolis, when the program for the year was outlined, the keynote was developed of not permitting so-called economy programs that may be advanced in some of the states of this area to prove injurious to the well-being of children. Some of the economy efforts might cause untold suffering to families and children, Legion officials believe. This also was the crux of a resolution adopted at the last national convention of the Legion. The Legion, the Auxiliary, the "40 and 8" and the "8 and 40" organizations that will be represented at the conference will also plan additional legislative efforts to improve child welfare laws at the coming sessions of the various legislatures. All Legion and Auxiliary members interested in child welfare work will be welcome at the coming conference, where a school will be held to explain the fundamental principles of the Legion program for the benefit of all children.

National and local representatives of Child Welfare and public health organizations will be present at this conference to discuss the present emergency conditions as they pertain to human welfare. There has never been a time when family welfare and child welfare service has been more vital to the wellbeing of the Nation, Legion officials declare.

Local Program

We offer for your consideration and approval, the following outline of a general legislative program for local taxpayers' associations. Our survey of the situation has convinced us that this program points the way to the most substantial contribution which the Legislature can make to the cause of economy. We should appreciate a vote of approval by your association on all or any part of it. From time to time, we shall amplify it by more specific and detailed proposals, but in its present form it serves as a general basis for action.

1. The 1933 state budget (to be financed from general revenue) should be balanced without increasing the state tax upon cities and towns, imposing new taxes or increasing the rates of existing taxes. To accomplish this, expenditures should be reduced to a minimum by salary reductions, curtailment or elimination of activities, etc.

2. Existing laws relating to city and town governments which obstruct retrenchment or make it difficult, should be suspended in 1933. Where these laws are ambiguous, they should be clarified in the interest of governmental economy.

3. State laws relating to budget procedure in cities and towns should be amended to permit certain transfers during the year, to require in the budget current estimates of receipts and to restrict supplementary appropriations.

4. Cities and towns can and should rely upon economies in their expenditures to reduce their property taxes and to compensate or reductions in other tax revenues. New or increased taxes for distribution to cities and towns should not be imposed upon citizens or business enterprises who, in one form or another, either directly or indirectly, are now taxed far in excess of what they can afford.

5. The proceeds of the existing gasoline tax and other revenues which go into the State Highway Fund, should be reallocated by distributing a larger share to cities and towns for highway purposes, and by curtailing highway construction by or under the direction of the state.

6. Bond issues for public works should not be incurred by the State government or by cities and towns, except in emergencies, and under no conditions should legislative authority to borrow outside the debt limit be granted to cities and towns in 1933.

Several Legislative Bills for salary reductions in the state service have been introduced. The Joint Ways and Means Committee will hold a hearing in the near future on these bills. We urge you to be represented at this hearing in support of these bills. We shall notify you as soon as a definite date has been set. The presence at this hearing of a delegation from your association would be extremely helpful. Public opinion is unquestionably behind them, but tangible evidence to that effect is needed. Favorable action upon them is imperative to a proper balancing of the state budget in 1933. The facts, briefly stated, are as follows:

In 1932, appropriations for state departments to be financed from "general revenue" totaled $41,925,000. It was estimated that taxes, fees, etc., would produce $32,175,000, and the balance of $9,750,000 formed the state tax which was assessed upon towns and cities and found their way into the property tax.

For 1933, it is expected that taxes, fees, etc., will not bring more than $27,000,000. This will "unbalance" the state budget by about $5,000,000. How will that gap of $5,000,000 be closed? Either appropriations must be reduced, new taxes must be found, or the state tax assessment must be increased.

As a local taxpayers' Association, you have a very definite interest in this problem. An increase in the state tax upon your city or town in 1933 would be extremely unfortunate. New taxes in any form are equally objectionable, for over one-third of the public income is now going toward taxes. The obvious thing to do is to concentrate on the "outgo" side of the state's accounts, and to reduce appropriations.

Must Cut Salaries
 For the last three years, the salary scale in the state government has not been reduced in any way. The public cannot afford to continue to pay prosperity-time salaries for a fourth year, and in all fairness, it should not be required to do so.

leave Massachusetts to determine what might be done to induce them to stay. Manufacturers who have discontinued operation in this State have been contacted to learn why they decided to cease manufacturing in Massachusetts. Conferences have been arranged with representatives of the industrial development departments of the various power companies in the State. The Commission has furnished a table of comparative benefit costs of the workmen's compensation laws of practically all the states to chambers of commerce and numerous other interested parties. Conferences have been held to assist in promoting federal legislation for uniform hours of labor. The Commission assisted in furthering the industrial exposition sponsored by the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, in the belief that it would be beneficial to our industries to display their wares in such a way.

At the present time the Commission is filing a long-felt need by preparing a "Directory of Massachusetts Manufacturers." All factors indicate that the list when published will be in great demand. In the hands of purchasing agents and others who have use for the manufactured products of the Commonwealth this directory should be of great benefit to our industries.

Unlicensed Dogs Of Needy In Lynn May Roam Without Fear

Mayor J. Fred Manning of Lynn yesterday granted a reprieve to about 300 dogs when he announced that children of families receiving aid and unable to pay for dog licenses be allowed to continue in possession of their pets.

Unless some neighbor complains or the dog becomes vicious no action will be taken against the children's parents, the Mayor said.

The Mayor, in his message to dog officer William H. Ximiness, stated that in these times other things than laws must be considered. In checking up the number of unlicensed dogs in the city, officer Ximiness discovered that more than 300 canines are owned in homes that are either wholly or partly supported by the city. If the owners of all these animals were brought into court any fines levied would have to be paid by charity or else the owners would be lodged in jail.

Commissioner Expects Further Decrease In Taxable Income

Taxable income in Massachusetts shrank $457,723,827 in two years, Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long said in a report on 1932 Massachusetts income tax returns. This loss, he said, means a resulting loss of approximately $15,000,000 in the tax receipts of the cities and towns.

In 1930, he said, the income of citizens of Massachusetts subject to income taxation amounted to $971,960,079. In 1931 it was $644,676,989 and in 1932 $496,236,252. The Commissioner said he anticipates a further decrease in taxable income this year.

HERE'S QUICKEST, SIMPLEST WAY TO STOP A COLD

Almost Instant Relief In This Way

If you have a cold—don't take chances with "cold killers" and nostrums. A cold is too dangerous to take chances on.

The simple method pictured above is the way doctors throughout the world now treat colds.

It is recognized as the QUICK-EST, safest, surest way. For it will check an ordinary cold almost as fast as you caught it.

That is because the real BAYER Aspirin embodies certain medical qualities that strike at the base of a cold almost INSTANTLY.

You can combat nearly any cold you get simply by taking BAYER Aspirin and drinking plenty of water every 2 to 4 hours the first day and 3 or 4 times daily thereafter. If throat is sore, gargle with 3 BAYER Aspirin Tablets crushed and dissolved in a half glass of warm water, repeating every 2 or 3 hours as necessary. Sore throat eases this way in a few minutes, incredible as this may seem.

Ask your doctor about this. And when you buy, see that you get the real BAYER Aspirin Tablets. They dissolve almost instantly. And thus work almost instantly when you take them. And for a gargle, Genuine Bayer Aspirin Tablets dissolve with sufficient speed and completeness, leaving no irritating particles or grittiness. Get a box of 12 or bottle of 100 at any drug store.

Ask your druggist about the recent price reduction on the 100 tablet size Bayer Aspirin.

PAIN DEADENED CHEST COLDS LOOSENEED WITHOUT DRUGS

Get quick relief from neuralgia pain, sciatica, pain, neuritis, rheumatic pain, lame back, stiff neck, headache, strains and chest colds by rubbing plenty of Ben-Gay (pronounced Ben-Gay) on the spot. It doesn't blister or stain. Rub it in till it sinks down and soothes the pain or breaks up the chest cold. Take no drugs, for any drug that is powerful enough to "desensitize" pain or loosen a chest cold may not be good for you.

But beware of imitations. Ask your druggist for Ben-Gay by name (called "Ben-Gay" in English). There are many analgesic balms, mostly cheap imitations of Ben-Gay made out of synthetic drugs. That is why they are cheap. That is also why they are ineffective. Insist on Ben-Gay and you will get real results.

NATURE'S REMEDY—the mild, all-vegetable laxative—safely stimulates the entire eliminative tract—strengthens, regulates the bowels for normal, natural functioning. ## Atty. Volpe Speaker At Harvard Square

Frank G. Volpe, assistant district attorney, spoke to the Harvard Square Business Men's association last night at the Continental hotel, declaring that it was a great tribute to the American people that there had been no increase in crime because of the hard times.

He said that crime is costing this country six and one-half billion dollars annually and that half a million people live by breaking the law. This great expense results from failure to administer the penalties of the law; because prisoners in our institutions are coddled; and because firearms are so commonly used here.

He declared that Middlesex county, the largest in this state, is also the cleanest because of the stringent enforcement of the criminal laws.

R. Currie Grovesstein, former president of the association, presented resolutions on the deaths of the following members: John W. Hodge, Charles A. Stover, John J. Haley, Henry L. Ramhofer and John Amee.

Medford Elk Buried In Portsmouth

Arthur C. Remick, formerly a resident of Medford, and member of Medford Lodge, No. 915 B. P. O. E. was buried yesterday at Portsmouth, N. H. The funeral was held from 271 Pleasant street, in that city, and Elks from the Portsmouth lodge were in attendance at the request of their brothers in Medford.

Mr. Remick was employed by the Boston and Maine R. R. and was stricken in his office at the North Station and rushed to the hospital, but was pronounced dead upon arrival. He made his home at 106 Thurston street, Somerville and formerly lived at 18 South street, Medford.

Mr. Remick was born in Abbeysville, Va. Dec. 28, 1878, and came to Medford at an early age. He attended the old Cradock school and the Medford High. He was a noted athlete and was named as an all-intercollegiate end while playing on the high school football team. The deceased is survived by a brother, Frank and two sisters, Rita and Mrs. Belle Partington of California.

Mr. Remick was in charge of the ticket office of the Boston and Maine R. R. in the Consolidated office on Franklin street, Boston, before it was discontinued. He joined the Medford lodge in 1917. His many fellow members regret his passing.
